White Cross Council's Anniversary.
Organized Twenty-Six Years Ago—Three Addresses Upon Work of Order Heard With Deep Interest—Lunch and Dancing.

One of the most successful celebrations which White Cross council, No. 13, K. of C., ever held was that of Friday evening, when the twenty-sixth anniversary of its institution was observed at St. Mary's hall, which was filled with members and their friends. The affair had been carefully arranged after by the committee of arrangement.

True patriotism cannot be divorced from true religion and survive. There never was a true government by athletes. If the church is to be true to its God how can they be true to their country?

I wish to congratulate this organization on its activity and I am pleased to know there is so much enthusiasm and so much of his countryman. Look over the statistics of the Knights of Columbus and note with pride the standing of the order on the insurance side. Every policy is a guarantee that it will be paid dollar for dollar.

In the west there is a big growth in the order. There should be a big increase in the east and I look for a big advance here next year. Let there be enthusiasm through the year. We have a duty to perform in connection with the church. We are the leading Catholic organization and if you are going to remain good citizens stand with the stars and stripes, your church and clergy. (Applause.)

Edward T. Burke spoke. The Knights of Columbus are engaged in a crusade, controlled under the stars and stripes. He draws his inspiration from God's holy laws, charity illuminates his pathway and the ideals that he seeks to attain are conformity to the teachings of Christ, love and peace. He tries to derive from the study of the life of the redemptor.
